History

The club was formed in 1979 by a small group from Bradford Model Engineers Society who were mainly interested in small scale railway modelling.

At that time the club held meetings in two rooms at Eccleshill Community Centre. Unfortunately in the late 1980's the building became unsafe and had to be demolished.

For a period of about eighteen months members kept in touch by holding occasional meetings in member's homes and other meeting places, all the time trying to find suitable alternative premises.

Eventually the club was offered a small upstairs room at Sedbergh Youth and Community Centre. Whilst this was not big enough to fulfil our needs it did enable the members continue meeting.

After a year at the centre we found premises at Dudley Hill Amateur Rugby League Club where we rented a Portacabin.

After being plagued with vandalism and a deteriorating building we moved back to occupy a much bigger room on the first floor at Sedbergh in 1997.

Activities

The aims of the club are to foster and encourage railway modelling in Bradford and the surrounding area, through the construction of layouts in various scales and gauges.

There are many skills acquired during the building of a layout including art, mechanical engineering, electronics, woodwork, architecture and landscaping.

Much social discussion and tea drinking also takes place and there are plenty of opportunities for people at all levels.

The club regularly supports other model railway clubs and societies by exhibiting our layouts at exhibitions.

These are also excellent opportunities to meet other modellers and share skills and experience, as well as picking up that bargain from the trade stands.

Membership

Membership of the club is open to anyone over 18 years old with an interest in the hobby. Our clubrooms are located at Sedbergh Community Centre (1st Floor); Huddersfield Road; BD6 1DJ and we meet every Monday and Thursday evening 7:45pm onwards.

We particularly encourage accompanied junior members in order that the skills and information can be passed on to future generations.

Membership costs just £10 a month. (£20 payable on joining).

Associate Membership may also be available for under 18's, members family and persons who do not visit regularly who still want to be associated with the club. (£45 a year). (Associate members cannot vote at meetings or regularly participate in club activities.) Introductory rates may also be available.
